February 2025 Newsletter

Upcoming IRC Meetings and Events:

March 14: Mike Sercer, WA9FDO, talks about his experiences in Armed Forces Radio.

March 22: W9JP POTA activation.

April 11: Dale Hammer, K9NN talks about the Reverse Beacon Network (RBN) system.

Highlights from the February Meeting:

The meeting was called to order at 7:30 pm by Club President David Spoelstra, N9KT. There were 40 in attendance. There were several new members and new hams present: Mike Walker, KD9YOO; Joshua Dukate, KD9YPG; Ashley Riner, KE9CNJ; Bryce Wolf, KE9CKW

David recognized the passing of former IRC President and Lifetime member, Chuck Crist, W9IH. David spoke about Winter Field Day, where several members of the IRC enjoyed the hospitality (and chili) of the SATERN Group at the EDS Training Facility. David also announced the Amateur Technician review and licensing session that he and Jim Rinehart, K9RU are going to be putting on March 15 at the EDS Training Facility [more information in this newsletter]. David pointed out the new “sale table” at meetings, where members can bring no more than a couple of items to sell (there were 2 radios sold at tonight’s meeting). In announcements from the floor, it was announced that former club member Fred Duncan, KC9FLB had passed away. Fred had been a member of the IDHS Ham Team (Auxcomm) for over 20 years. David gave an overview of the club’s finances, stating that for 2025, the club showed a slight “profit”, due in great part to donations from Kroger, ARRL Club Commission program, and the club's auction. David, from his role as State Government Liaison, gave a brief report from the State House, primarily regarding a bill restricting "Radio Jamming Devices". If this bill becomes law, it will make malicious interference a violation of state law. Finally, David said that if the club wants to participate in Field Day, we need someone to volunteer to head it up.

Ed Lukens, AA9ED won the $25 DXEngineering gift certificate.

Next, David introduced this evening's presenter, Bryce Bookwalter, KD9YFY. Bryce's presentation was on Backpacking and Portable Radio. Bryce talked about his journey into ham radio, including Civil Air Patrol and a stint in the Army. He now works in the Monroe County Health Department. He gave some good pointers on considerations for gear when backpacking. He said his primary goal is to hike the entire Appalachian Trail.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR AREA EVENTS

There are several great opportunities coming up where you can use our hobby to benefit some popular events in Central Indiana. To volunteer for the 500 Festival Mini-Marathon, 500 Festival Parade, along with several other area events, go to <https://www.mcinares.org/publicservice/> and find the event you're interested in. You'll be able to practice your communication skills and have fun at the same time!

RECAP FROM FEB. 22 CLUB POTA EVENT

Fourteen members and friends of the Indianapolis Radio Club had a fun time at our first Club Parks on the Air (POTA) event of the year on Saturday, February 22, at Fort Harrison State Park. We braved some chilly temperatures, but got on the air around noon with 2 HF stations. Special thanks to Ellen and Gordon Brock (KD9RUD and KD9RUE) once again for the use of their tent that, coupled with a propane heater, made the operating stations very comfortable. 12 of the 14 present were members of the IRC, including one brand new member as of that day! We had 8 operators on the air, including 3 brand new hams. Those 8 operators made a total of 127 contacts on three bands, with several good DX contacts made (Spain, France, Germany, etc.) We are planning on doing the next club POTA event on March 22. Watch your email for details.

INDIANA QSO PARTY COMING UP MAY 3

The 2025 Indiana QSO Party is coming up Saturday, May 3, running from 11:00 am to 11:00 pm, Indianapolis time. This is a great time to get on the air, because everyone will be looking for Indiana stations. Once again this year, there will be 10 “rare” counties that may qualify for additional plaques. More information on the INQP can be found at <http://www.hdxcc.org/inqp/index.html>

NO MORE IN-PERSON SKYWARN TRAINING THIS SEASON

Just in time for storm season, the in-person Skywarn training sessions, normally presented at various locations throughout Central Indiana by local National Weather Service officials have been “DOGEed”. Now, the only training session that is currently scheduled is a virtual session on Tuesday, March 4, at 6:00 pm. Registration is required for this session. To register, go to <https://www.weather.gov/ind/spotter> and navigate down to the session on March 4.

BACK ISSUES OF IRC NEWSLETTERS ON-LINE

A couple of years ago, the Indianapolis Radio Club was approached by the folks at Internet Archive, who had enlisted the help of Kay Savetz, K6KJN as their “Special Collections Program Manager”. Kay was looking for newsletters and other pertinent information from amateur radio clubs. At that time, the IRC sent Kay PDF copies of all the newsletters and other interesting documents that we had, dating back to 1940. Last month, we sent her all of our newsletters from 2024 to add to the collection. To view the Indianapolis Radio Club collection on the web, go to <https://archive.org/details/indianapolis-radio-club> To see the catalog of documents available in the Digital Library of Amateur Radio & Communications (DLARC), go to <https://archive.org/details/dlarc-newsletters?tab=collection>

NEW VERSION OF GA RELEASE OF WSJT-X AVAILABLE

If you are an FT-8 operator, you will be interested to know that the first General Availability (GA) release of WSJT-X in 2 years, version 2.7.0 is available at <https://sourceforge.net/projects/wsjt/> Once on that page, scroll down to the green “Download” button, under “WSJT”. Make sure you use that download button, as there are some other buttons that can be misleading and take you places you might not want to go.

ARRL TRAINING RESOURCES

If you know a new ham, or maybe you are a new ham yourself, check out the training resources available from the ARRL at <https://www.arrl.org/newly-licensed-learn-more>. Some of the topics are “What radio equipment should I buy first?”, “How do I build a simple antenna”, and “What can I expect when I make my first contact?”. Several of these topics are available to all, but to access some training resources, you need to be an ARRL member. ARRL membership is a great investment in the hobby, because in addition to these training resources, the ARRL is our voice when dealing with regulation issues that can affect us all. Don’t forget, when you join or renew your ARRL membership, if you do it through the Club Commission Program, the Indianapolis Radio Club will get a “kickback” on your membership fee. For details, contact club treasurer Ken Bandy, KJ9B at treasurer@indyradioclub.org

RESULTS FROM FEBRUARY 8 TEST SESSION

4 candidates attended the Indianapolis Radio Club sponsored VE testing on 2/8/2025. 3 new hams earned their first license, and 1 ham earned a license upgrade. Thanks to Jim Rinehart K9RU, Dave Jarvis N9KZJ, Ken Bandy KJ9B, Jim Brown W0RLD, Bill Leahy K9RFK, and Jim Kajder AC9ZL for their help as volunteer examiners!
